Plas Gunter Abergavenny

A talk by Dr Gill Wakley, Chair of the Abergavenny Local History Society

Built probably in the early 1600s by Thomas Gunter, the mansion provided a refuge for local Catholics and supported the Catholic priests. It is an important period building and the presence of a chapel in the attic, lost to view for hundreds of years, makes it even more valuable.

The Plas Gunter Mansion Trust has been formed to investigate and conserve the house. The talk will cover both its unique nature and some of those who lived there.
